

GREEN TRANSITION FOR VET

The Greenvet apprenticeships have started and are currently underway in the 5 partner countries: Italy, Cyprus, Greece, Spain, and Serbia!

Below you can find some information on how they are structured and how they are progressing!

As part of the Greenvet project, and thanks to the e-learning platform created by the consortium, each partner is offering at least 10 workers from companies, public administrations, and freelancers an apprenticeship opportunity that is completely free and entirely online.

The apprenticeship consists of completing at least 1 of the 4 modules available on the platform and passing a final test, after which each participant will receive an EQF Level 7 certificate.

Who is the apprenticeship for?

- Employees in companies (especially in IMRs)
- Workers in environmental organizations
- Training and educational centers
- VET providers
- Freelancers interested in making their daily work greener.

In any case, the consortium encourages everyone who is interested to take part, so that we can all contribute to a greener future!

What do you need to do to join the apprenticeship?
